FIGHT RECIDIVISM: Growing Resilient Youth in Transition

Do you know any youth who...

came from an institution-based probation or rehabilitation programme?

is seeking help in reintegrating back into the community?

wants a positive contribution to society?

is looking for positive influences?

REFER A YOUTH TO THE GRYT SERVICE

The Growing Resilient Youth in Transition (GRYT) service is Trybe's solution in combating recidivism among youth offenders. The primary objective of GRYT is to provide continued support for mid to high-risk youth ex-offenders and probationers. Flip this paper for more details>>

GRYT Service

THE ISSUE

Lack of structured post-rehabilitation care for youth probationers / offenders who are transitioning out of the rehabilitation institutions into the community, increases the risk of reoffending

ABOUT THE SERVICE

- A 14 to 26-month service, depending on the length of duration of community probation
- Aims to rehabilitate youth away from an offending lifestyle
- Support the integration of the youth back into the community

OUR CLIENTS

- Youth aged 13-21
- Mid to very high risk of reoffending
- Will be transitioning from institution-based probation or rehabilitation programme
- Keen to seek help

OUR GOALS

- Better rehabilitation outcomes
- Continued support for the youth as they re-integrate into the community
- For the youths to exhibit a reduction in offending behaviour
- For the youths to contribute positively to society
