

Take the first step in creating a lasting impact

At Trybe, our 3 core principles of volunteering are:

Volunteers are essential partners for Trybe to succeed
in its mission

Volunteer provide a different perspective and add a new dimension to our work

Trybe is committed to developing our volunteers and helping them
succeed

THERE ARE NO SMALL ROLES
IN VOLUNTEERING

We are committed to developing our volunteers and helping them succeed in their chosen role. As you progress in your volunteer work with Trybe, there will be various opportunities for further growth and development. These opportunities are provided such that you may hone your skills and knowledge in creating a greater impact in our society. Flip this paper for more details>>

Volunteer at Trybe

ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

More often than not, the best and most effective way of learning is through on-the-job training. We believe that a hands-on approach works best when it comes to picking up the skills required to volunteer effectively.

Our experienced staff team will also be present during the training to ensure that newer volunteers are at ease and will provide pointers and support to help you hone your skills.

TRAINING COURSES

We also recognize the need for specialized training courses. Our volunteers are afforded opportunities to attend these courses held internally or at a third-party course provider.

The aim of the training courses is to further equip you with the necessary skills and knowledge in areas that will benefit the work that you do with us. External courses could also provide an added benefit of a networking opportunity with other like-minded individuals volunteering across the sector.

COACHING

We believe that volunteer development does not stop at just training. As a natural part of their development, our staff team will coach volunteers in matters pertaining to volunteering and beyond. Experienced volunteers would also be given opportunities to coach newer volunteers. The culture of coaching and building relationship is one that is deeply embedded into our DNA at Trybe; we hope that this will continue to catch on amongst our volunteers too!
